Means to Enforce the Bogus Laws!

President Buchanan, it is announced by telegraph, assures sundry persons that "by the help of God, he will enforce the" (bogus Kansas) "laws, in accordance with his oath of office."

We don't believe he will get any help from that quarter for any such disgraceful business.

THE DRED SCOTT DECISION APPLIED.—The telegraph announces a decision by the General Land office, against the right of negroes to pre-empt lands. It is given as referring to a case in this State, but we think the case belongs in Minnesota, as one was carried up not long since from that Territory.

BACK AGAIN.—The Watertown Anzeiger, which, on the authority of the Democrat, we stated to have come out Republican, we now learn by the same authority, is to remain democratic. Mr. CARL SCHURZ proposes to start a German Republican paper in Watertown. We wish him success in the enterprise.

DEATH OF EUGENE SUE.—News by a late arrival announces the death of Eugene SUE, the French Novelist. He was born in Paris, Dec 10, 1804, and at his baptism the Empress Josephine and the Prince Eugene Beauharnais officiated as sponsors. Having completed his preparatory education, he followed the example of his father, and entered the army as surgeon, in which capacity he served in Spain in 1823, and was present at the storming of Cadix and the capture of Trocadero and Tarifa. The next year he entered into the naval service and made several voyages to the West Indies. In 1827, he went to Greece and was present in battle of Navarino. He turned his attention to literature, and has pursued it with great success, having amassed a large fortune. It is singular that while living the life of a luxurious aristocrat, his pen was at work preaching economy to the people, and his socialistic tendencies carried him so far that he was once banished from the Empire.

PECULIAR MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.—The present Secretary of War has a peculiar way of doing things. Troops are badly needed in Minnesota to ward off the threatened attacks of the Indians but there is no earthly use for them in Kansas. Accordingly, it is with considerable surprise we learn from the Minnesota papers that Major Sherman's Flying Artillery and Captain Best' Company of Infantry have been ordered from that territory to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The Administration seems to think it of greater consequence to intimidate the free state voters of Kansas, than to protect the Minnesota pioneers from Indian massacre.

DEATH OF THOMAS DICK, LL D.—Dr. Dick, the author of "The Christian Philosopher," and many other works of a religio-scientific character, which have been and are still very popular on both sides of the Atlantic, died at Broughty Ferry, near Dundee, Scotland, on Wednesday, the 29th of July, at the advanced age of eighty-three. Up to the close of his life he was an earnest devotee of the sciences, Astronomy being his favorite study, and that in which he was probably most at home.

LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY.—We learn that the fall term of Lawrence University at Appleton commences on Thursday of next week. It is an excellent institution, and well deserving of the success with which it has met. It has an able corps of professors, who devote their efforts to the careful training of those committed to their charge.

ATTEMPT TO ARREST BRESLIN.—Gov. Chase solicited the help of the General Government to get back from Canada, Breslin, the defaulting democratic Treasurer of Ohio. Secretary Cass has replied that the Extradition treaty, unfortunately, does not apply to such cases.

DAILY PAPERS.—We consider it a burning shame that we cannot get the Milwaukee papers the day they should come, but that they must lay over a day at Racine. The Sentinel and the Democrat reach us the day after date.—Delavan Messenger.

That is not the only burning shame in regard to the mails; in fact we think that the whole system is very much out of gear. Our Madison and Janesville friends, with all on the line of the Mil. & Miss. R. R., are very badly served by the present time-table, and we hope some change will be made soon.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—The St. Louis Democrat of Wednesday morning, says;

As will be seen by the footings up of the two columns, Rollins now has just 300 majority over Stewart, with the counties of Butler Ripley, and Shannon to hear from. If our reports from unofficial sources prove true, we feel convinced that Major Rollins will be found to be elected: and if our surmise in regard to the counties of Dent and Texas are confirmed, he will have quite a margin to go upon. What frauds the anti-Benton may have still under the rose, of course we cannot predict; but we do reiterate the belief we have expressed all along, and say that without fraud we believe Rollins will not be defeated.

"DIRECT TRADE WITH ENGLAND."—The Chicago Democrat does not seem to think much of the results of the experiment of the Madeira Pet's voyage. It says:

"The Madeira Pet, at last accounts, had filled up with a cargo of staves, at Detroit. After all that has been said about "direct trade," here, we think it is not very encouraging that the pioneer vessel from the other side should be compelled to commence her return trip, with a few hides only. It does not look as though we are prepared for "direct trade" just yet.

DAMAGE BY THE GALE OF SUNDAY AT KENOSHA.—The Kenosha Telegraph says:

The Kenosha Pier Co.'s steam pile driver which was on some uncovered bents at the outer end of their new pier, was thrown into the Lake, by the sea knocking down one of the bents about noon. This was the most serious damages of the storm here. It is thought that it can be raised without material damages to the machinery.

The bank was washed away near the Lumber Yard of Messrs. Durkee, Truesdell & Co., to such an extent that one or two piles of lumber were undermined and pitched into the Lake. The lumber has been mostly recovered, we believe.

Indians getting Troublesome in Northwestern Wisconsin.

A letter received by us yesterday from Mr. R. MELONEY, of Broomer Prairie, Chippewa County, says:

Yesterday (Aug. 11th) there were 20 Indians, with two kegs of whisker, going to Rice Lake.—They shot an ox belonging to Mr. WOODRUFF, and another Indian snapped his rifle at Mr. THAYER, and would have shot him, if some one had not yelled at him in the Indian tongue. The same party came to my neighbor's house, and stole his pork and sugar, and then came running to my house with their wifes and 2 muhawks; but seeing that I was not afraid of them, they said they "wanted bread."

I hope that our State will make some law to punish the half breeds that sell whi-key to these Indians; and I hope that government will remove them, or else not sell their land to the whites. R. MELONEY.

(There is in existence a very stringent law against selling liquor to the Indians, but we presume that it is disobeyed like all other laws restraining the sale of the poison.)

The Arrests at Franklin.

[Correspondence of the St. Louis Democrat.]

LAWRENCE, Aug. 15, 1857

A company of dragoons passed Lawrence this morning in the direction of the village of Franklin. They returned in the most insulting way this evening through the town—although it is not in their direct course, and took six prisoners to camp.

They were arrested in Franklin.

There is a rowdy there by the name of Crane, who has several sons of the ruffian species.—Last year this family, when the Georgia and Missouri highwaymen held the town, burned down a mill belonging to a free state man there. Although this fact was known and could readily be proved, they were not driven from the town when the free state inhabitants returned. Forgiveness seems to make some men more fiendish. It was so with these Cranes. The sons have repeatedly threatened, within a few weeks past, to shoot several of the prominent free state citizens. As they were often drunk, it was feared they might do so. A committee waited on two of the sons and told them, in the name of the citizens, that they must cease their impertinence or leave town. One of them left town—for Walker's camp—and returned with a company of dragoons.

From the London Times, Aug. 3.

The Reported Capture of Delhi.

The doubt and excitement on Saturday regarding the capture of Delhi has been almost equal to that which attended the first false report of the fall of Sabastopol. All the operations in the funds have turned upon the degree of credit attached to the rumor, and although nothing approaching to a positive confirmation of it could be traced to any quarter, there was a wide impression it will prove true. The chief facts cited in its favor are, that up to the latest dates of the commercial advices from Bombay, the native merchants were confident upon the point, and very freely acting upon it, while from the Agra private letters have been received from an officer of rank, dated June 17, stating that our forces had occupied the city, but had yet to take the fort—and also mentioning that the troops in possession were those from Meerut and Umballah, that great havoc had been executed upon the insurgents, and that the loss on the British side had been inconsiderable.

But the Bombay Times of the 1st of July furnishes a statement which seems to dispel it entirely. Returning to the last advices from Delhi, they say, "General Barnard was waiting reinforcements on the morning of the 17th, after having repelled several sorties." This is the same date as that of the letter from Agra, and the latter, therefore, is shown to have been written under the influence of one of those rumors of the capture of the city, which had been in circulation throughout the country during the whole of the preceeding week. The only surmise that can be raised after this to favor the slightest conjecture of the tale not being a delusion, is that there may have been a mistake in stating that the news from Delhi reached so late as the 17th.

REV. J. H. EGAR.—We are sorry to learn that the Rev. J. H. Egar, of the Episcopal church is going to remove from this city. The citizens of this place will part with him reluctantly, as they have found him to be a devoted young man of marked talent, and an exemplary Christian.—Prairie au Chien Courier.

Mr. Egar has accepted the call of the St. Matthias (Episcopal) church in this place.—Waukesha Rep.

MILWAUKEE & BELOIT R. R.—The propeller Galena, which arrived here yesterday, brought a large gang of hands, with the necessary accoutrements, consisting of horses, wheelbarrows, scrapers, &c., who are to go to work on the Milwaukee & Beloit R. R., on the contract of Messrs. Shuler & Co. They left for Elkhorn last evening, where we learn they are to commence work immediately.—Racine Journal.

THE INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.—The fine basement story of this great State work at Delevan is now up, and the builders are busily engaged on the second story, being built of Milwaukee brick. It will, when finished, be a splendid building.—Delevan Messenger.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, AUGUST 20.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

Frederick Rora was brought up for being drunk, and fined $1,50, which he paid for his frolic.

Fred'k McGrath, for the same offence, paid $1.

Jno. Teall, drunk, fined $1.

August Geusche, charged with being disorderly, was found not guilty.

P. C. Hale, fast driving on bridge, fined $2.

Mr. Hale alleged that his horse trotted but a few steps on the bridge, and was hauled up as soon as possible, but the bridge tender stoutly maintained that he trotted much farther.

Frauds at the Caucuses.

The indignant Democracy of the Second Ward held a meeting, on Tuesday evening last, and after a stirring speech from DR. HUNDEBAUSEN, showing up the frauds perpetrated at the recent Democratic caucuses in the Third Fourth Wards, and in the Towns of Granville and Milwaukee, appointed a committee to investigate these matters, and report at an adjourned meeting, to be held in a day or two. At the caucuses complained of, it will be remembered, delegates were chosen friendly to the nomination of Mayor Cross for Governor; but this result, it is charged by Dr. HUNDSCHMANN'S friends, was brought about by corrupt influence, imported votes and other unfair proceedings. Hence the Second Ward meeting and its action. The Germans are very generally and warmly in favor of Dr. HUNDSCHMANN'S nomination, while the Irish, with rare exceptions, are bitterly opposed to it. The Federal officials too, who besides attending to Uncle Sam's business, are anxious to regulate our State affairs, are down on the Doctor, because he happened to lose favor with the Buchanan administration, and was turned out of office for resisting Gadphinism. Then again, there is the Barstow and anti-Barstow element, which, mixed in with the other ingredients of the political cauldron, promises to make a pretty mess of it. It is clear that the Barstow men, having got the upper hand in the organization of the party and secured the lion's share of the spoils, are determined to retain this advantage, and keep the "auties" on the back seats. The latter, on the other hand, having a lively sense of the injury wrought to the prospects and character of the party by the leadership of "the forty," are most anxious to throw off this incubus, and take charge of the Democracy themselves. Mayor Cross, as an old and staunch adherent of ex-Governor BARSTOW, is pretty generally supported by the Barstow men, and earnestly opposed by the Anties; and as the Convention day draws near, the contest deepens.

WEATHER.—Our hot weather from present appearances, is about over. For some days past we have had all sorts of weather, in which very little of the genuine summer sort has been mingled. Yesterday was, for the most part cool and damp, and threatening rain. We trust that it is different weather on the lakes, that the farmers may succeed in getting the crops safely housed

The Newhall House.

This new and elegant hotel was thrown open yesterday to the public, and from 9 A. M. till 9 P. M. was crowded by admiring visitors. It is computed that from eight to ten thousand persons visited the house during the day, and their verdict was unanimous as to its admirable adaptation to all the objects and purposes of a first-class hotel. The spacious halls, elegant parlors, comfortable bed-rooms, tasty furniture and all the other adjuncts of a superior public house, were seen, admired and approved by thousands of our citizens and a great many strangers. It was agreed upon all hands that the NEWHALL HOUSE, in all the requisites for such an establishment, might safely challenge comparisons with the best hotels in New York and Boston, and defy competition in the North West. In the afternoon, a very handsome collation was served in one of the private parlors of the hotel, where our City Officials, members of the press and other invited guests, enjoyed a pleasant hour with the proprietors, Messrs. KEAN & RICE.

The preparations for the Festival of Tuesday are making good progress. Nothing will be left undone, to render the entertainment a brilliant and successful one. Let us hope that our citizens, one and all—the Ladies especially—will lend their all important aid and influence to make this the great event of the season. The attendance from abroad will be large, and our city, on this occasion, ought to be fairly and fully represented

MILWAUKEE FROM ALOFT.—Among the thousands of people who visited the Newhall House, yesterday, and ascended to the balcony on the roof—no man see a large number there now while we are writing—there were many who obtained a better idea of the rapid growth of our city than they have had before, or could easily obtain else where. With the exception of a portion of the First Ward, of which the view is cut off by the intervening buildings, and a large part of the Ninth, of which only a confused mass of houses can be seen, while the rough bluffs conceal part of it, the whole city lies patent to the view.

Southward, the Fifth Ward is growing rapidly. Southwestward, looking away over to Weuk's addition, are the new roofs clustering thickly, and up the Menomonee valley the view extends for several miles. Westward, the Fourth Ward is seen, the view being clear to the top of Spring St. Hill near the Catholic Cemetery. Turning to the northwest and north, the Second, Sixth and Ninth Wards are seen, being built up with wonderful rapidity, the bluffs being de-graded and the valley filled with long embankments, carrying the streets in each direction. To the north and northeast, the First and Seventh Wards present a solid mass of buildings, while the Third, in which is the hotel, resounds with the noise of the hammer and trowel.

It is a fair sight to see, and a fine place to view it from.

VAN BUREN STREET—A GRIEVANCE.—Some six or seven years ago, Van Buren street was one of the most desirable streets in the city for private residences, and was the thoroughfare through which a great many of our citizens always walked or drove, to and from their dwellings in the eastern part of the city. But the hand of "improvement" seized upon it, and cut, and carved, and dug away, and filled, and gravelled, and dug away again and did not fill or gravel, till the street has been a nuisance almost for years. We are not aware that the citizens who live upon it have been remiss in paying their taxes, but believe that they pay up with reasonable promptness; in fact, we think that the most aggravating feature in the case is that they have been obliged to pay for the damage done to themselves, and to be insulted both in comfort and cash. What have they done to merit such abuse?

MARKET SQUARE.—The new brick blocks on Market Square are getting in their fruits, and begin to assume an appearance which adds greatly to the good looks of that square—so called doubtless because it isn't square—we won't trust on compositors or trouble our readers with the Latin reason for such things. It is a pity that some enterprising man has not built up the balance of the block this season, so as to make one job of it, and leave the "square clean another season. But Rome was not built in a day.

HANDSOME TOBACCO.—Mr. W. J. WHALING hauded us, yesterday, some samples of tobacco, raised near Lynchburg, Virginia, and brought from there by his brother, Mr. J. P. WHALING. The lot is remarkable for its fineness of quality, and the price at which it sold, $310 per 100 lbs., is the highest price yet paid for tobacco.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.—AT MATSON, LOOMIS & HOSE' may be seen a splendid set of German silver instruments for MARELL'S new Cornet Band, just organized in this city. There is ample room for such a band, and we wish the enterprise success.

RAISED.—The schooner Echo, which went aground between the piers recently, has been raised and gone upon the dry dock.

The President, a short time ago, received a letter from Prof. Silliman and others, including several Doctors of Divinity, objecting to the employment by him, of the U. S. Military forces to execute the so called laws of Kansas, and assuring him that they would not cease to pray that he might have the proper course of duty pointed out to him, or something to this effect. To this letter the President has just replied, briefly but pointedly, denying premises—questioning the knowledge of these laws and utter acknowledging their validity, he calmly assures them that by the help of God he will enforce them in accordance with his oath of office.

Obituary.

DEATH OF MRS. LADUE.—We regret to learn of the death of Mary, wife of Joshua LaDue, Esq., of this city. She died at the residence of her father in Mastersville, Dodge County, Mich., on the 16th inst., of consumption. She was about 31 years of age. The deceased although a resident of this city but for a short time, had formed a wide circle of acquaintances, and was highly esteemed by all. She was a lady of great intelligence and sensibility, and her early removal from the scenes of earth will be deeply felt by her relatives and friends.—Milwaukee Daily News.

The subject of the above notice, whose funeral ceremonies were so numerously attended at the Presbyterian Church in this village last Sunday morning, was known to most of our village readers. She was the eldest daughter of the late Frederick Goodrich, of this county, and, with his wife, Mary A. Goodrich, took every pains properly to educate and bring her up. Among those of our readers who were acquainted with Mary, will always remember her kind and amiable disposition and uniform ladylike deportment. About two years since she was married, and removed to the home of her husband, in the city of Milwaukee, State of Wisconsin. Always delicate, her most intimate friends feared she would not long survive the ravages of the fell disease to which she has fallen a victim. We are happy to learn that, although young and possessed of everything that renders life desirable, she expressed our perfect resignation to the will of her Heavenly Father, and seemed happy in the anticipation of her change o worlds. She leaves a kind and affectionate husband, an infant daughter, with many and heartily sympathise in this, the greate t affliction that can possibly befall them.—Westfield (N. Y.) Western Argus.

HAIR RESTORATIVE.—The demand for this unrivalled preparation for the Hair and skin is beyond the possibility of a doubt, and its sale is greater than any other Hair Restorative that has ever been before the public. Thousands of persons who were bald and gray, and others whose faces were covered with unsightly blotches and pimples, are now, with their own glossy hair, and with faces comely and fair to look upon, seen daily commending the secrets of all the principal cities of the Union, and by their influence spreading the fame of Wood's Hair Restorative throughout the civilized world. The trial of one bottle is more convincing than all we would say in a whole newspaper column.

☞ It does not dye but gives life, health and beauty to the decaying, fading and dead, restoring as if by magic that which was supposed to be irrecoverably lost. Heads nearly bald and others nearly white, are daily being changed to their pristine beauty, and faces covered with pimples are rendered as smooth as an infant's and blushing as a rose, all by the use of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.—St. Louis Commercial List. Sold here by all Druggists.

MORE FOREIGN TRADE—DETROIT AND LONDON.—A portion of the cargo of the Saginaw, which clears for Buffalo this afternoon, consists of 1,000 bbls copper from the Wellington mine, consigned to John Taylor & Sons, London. The shipment will be followed by others from the same mine, in all one thousand tons—5,334 barrels—for consignment to the above house, which will be shipped by the Western Transportation Company to New York, where it will be re shipped to London. This would afford nice cargoes for a brace of such vessels as the Kershaw, if it is assumed that the saving of freight and exchange in the cost of smelting will about pay the freight of the ore to London. All the smelting works in this country engaged in smelting Lake Superior ore, already have contracts for the present season fully equal to their capacity. The Detroit Smelting Works could have obtained contracts for double the amounts of their capacity.—Detroit Tribune.

DETROIT AND LIVERPOOL.—Yesterday the Madeira Pet cleared from the dock of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway for Liverpool direct. May prosperous gales attend her!—Ib.

THE HANSA.—The propeller Queen of the Lakes came into the harbor on Tuesday afternoon, and took out a full load of wool at Messrs. Dutton & Raymond's "Depot Warehouse" and Mr. M. B. Mead's warehouse. She is over 180 feet in length, and draws over ten feet of water. She "kinded around" without experiencing any trouble —Racine Journal.

The Missouri Election.

Last November Missouri, in common with all the other Slave-holding States (Maryland alone excepted) declared for Buchanan, Sham Democracy and Pro-Slavery, by some ten thousand majority. Within the current month Missouri has held a State election, the candidates for Governor being Col. STEWART, the regular nominee of the Pro Slavery Administration party, and Major ROLLINS, Independent; and so close is the contest between these two that nothing but the official returns can decide the result. However the scale may turn, the very closeness of the vote is a sore defeat to the Sham Democracy and a substantial triumph for their opponents. And what gives special value and significance to the result is the fact that Major ROLLINS was very generally voted for by those who desire to see Missouri a FREE STATE, while COL. STEWART was the champion and candidate of the Pro-Slavery men. In this result, therefore, we may behold the dawn of a brighter day for Missouri and the promise that she will, ere long, of her own accord, strike off the shackles of her Slaves and join the glorious company of FREE STATES. It is instructive to remark, that while the Republican papers everywhere hail with delight this auspicious sign of the times, the organs of the Sham Democracy, true to their Pro-Slavery instincts, are nervously anxious for the success of STEWART, the Pro-Slavery nominee, and the defeat of ROLLINS, the candidate of the Emancipationists. Nothing could more strikingly illustrate the real and radical difference between the two parties.

More Bad Effects of the Wine.

Our contemporary of the News is rather worse than ever since partaking of the "Border Ruffian wine," sent by its Missouri friend. It has now got so far as to substitute hard names for arguments, and abuse of "Lane and Robinson" for facts properly bearing on the case. In everything which it charges against them personally he true, it does not alter the position of political matters one whit.

Under the stimulus of the wine, the News demands that the Free States men shall "surrender," which they don't seem inclined to do now, but may do at the urgent request of our cotemporary.

It asserts that "it is only necessary for the inhabitant to be in fact, or to have declared on oath his intention to become an American citizen, and to make oath to support the organic act of Kansas," when, Judge Cato's decision is to the effect that the person offering to vote must have first paid a tax, that judicial luminary who furnishes, with Judge Lecompte, the Border Ruffian party with laws, deeming such payment an "indispensable pre-requisite to the right to vote!" The bewildering effects of Border Ruffian potations further appears in the assertion that "at no time since the troubles at Lawrence began"—by the trouble doubtless meaning the opposition to the Bogus laws and determination to have their own—"have the majority of her citizens approved of them;" and this in spite of the fact, known to the News, when sober, that the vote of Lawrence for the Topeka Con-stitution was 652 for to two against!

How long will the News thus continue to humbug its readers?

STATE PRISON COMMISSIONER.—A correspondent in Sheboygan County, signing himself "a true Republican," urges the name of Capt. D. A. REED, of Sheboygan Falls, for State Prison Commissioner. He is represented as having been a resident of Wisconsin since 1837, as one who would command a large vote, especially among those interested in the Lake Marine, and who would add strength to the ticket in the Lake counties.

Our correspondent thinks that Sheboygan Co., which has worked up from a minority of 1500, to a Republican majority of 200, is fairly entitled to consideration.

DEATH OF PROF. DAVID PRENTICE.—The Geneva Courier announces the death of DAVID PRENTICE, L. L. D. of that place, on the 14th. Dr. PRENTICE passed the longest portion of his three score y ars and ten, as a teacher, and for a considerable time was a Professor in Geneva College. Latterly he had been compelled from the infirmities of age to give up teaching, but was enabled to live comfortably upon an annual Christmas present of $500, which had been made to him for some years past as a tribute of affection and respect by five of his former pupils; Judge MASTEN and H. W. ROGERS, Esq., of Buffalo, Ex-Governor SEYMOUR and WARD HUNT, Esq., of Utica, and HENRY MYGATT, Esq., of Chemango County.

TOWNSEND AGAIN.—The Hamilton Banner says the Solicitor General has paid Cayuga a visit lately, and is quite convinced that McElleny, alias Townsend, is Townsend, and nobody else. He is also of opinion that no difficulty will be experienced, when the time for the trial arrives, in proving his identity in a most satisfactory manner.

SCHOOL APPARATUS AND LIBRARY FOR RACINE.—MR. J. G. MCMYNN, the Principal of the Racine High School, is stated by the Journal of that city, to have gone to New York to purchase a library and apparatus for the School, the former to cost $1000, and the latter $500.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT.—A valued friend and correspondent requests us to state that the name of D. Y. Kilgore, of Madison, will be brought before the Republican Convention, for nomination as State Superintendent. Mr. Kilgore is a practical teacher, of extensive and intimate acquaintance with schools, a wide-awake and energetic man, and our correspondent says, "is decidedly superior to any other named, in my opinion."

Mr. Kilgore's nomination, we doubt not, would be well received and heartily supported.—Free Democrat.

The Missouri Election.

Our democratic papers are almost bursting with delight at the possibility that STEWART, the candidate of the regular pro-slavery democracy of Missouri, is elected Governor, by the official and mandated returns, and ROLLINS, who was supported by the Emancipationists, defeated.—We notice, too, that the St. Louis Democrat, the leading Sinascipation paper, indulges in naturally severe language in relation to the frauds by which it thinks it possible that ROLLINS may be returned. The last number of the Democrat says:

When the question comes between fraud and force, we have no hesitation in choosing our position. We would rather be defeated than cheated. Government and laws and suffrage were instituted for the purpose of enabling the people to express their will through orderly and peace able modes. They were designed to avoid civil commotion and punish fraudulent action. But if government and laws are defeated in their object, if fraud installs itself in the State, and the ballot box is to be made a thing of scorn, the corruptions openly practiced upon it, then we say the community have but one suffering mode of redress. No-in advancing this do we recognize that we are violating any ordinance, human or divine. We only wish to make the law potential to enforce that provision guaranteeing purity of election—and compel officers of the State and the counties to respect the statutes of the land. The opposition can make as much out of this as they choose. Our remarks have all been based upon reported fraud, and if such shall be the case we will never be found counselling a craven submission to outrages so flagrant—so violative of our dearest rights.

It is natural enough that the friends of Free Labor in Missouri should wax hot in their indignation at the possibility of the fruits of their hard-fought battle being snatched from them; but they can console themselves with having fought a good fight, in changing in one year their State from 10,000 democratic majority, to a substantial Free Soil victory. One more trial, and no probable amount of fraud will change the result, and Missouri will, to all intents and purposes, rank, to her great advantage, among the free states.

A REVIEW OF KANSAS AFFAIRS.—We invite the attention of candid readers to the following brief review of affairs in Kansas during the last few months, taken from the columns of the St. Louis Democrat;

There are over seventy thousand inhabitants in Kansas. Nine-tenths are in favor of free labor and free soil. The pro-slavery party is an insignificant minority, in point of numbers, but dominant through fraud and federal assistance.

Both parties have taken the preliminary steps for the admission of the Territory as a State into the Union. The Topeka constitution is the result of the movement of the free state men. Nearly three thousand citizens voted for the delegates who framed that instrument. Seventeen hundred and some odd voted in favor of it when submitted to the people for ratification. The causes which produced this diminished vote, are familiar to our readers. Ruffianism was rampant in several districts, and there the polls were not permitted to be opened. At Leavenworth, which gave four hundred votes, the ballot-box was destroyed by a Platte county mob, and consequently the opinion of the people of that precinct was not recorded. The winter, too, was setting in with unusual severity, and the squatters who had but recently come from the defense of Lawrence, were hardly engaged in fitting up their winter quarters.

That constitution has been again submitted to the people. Over ten thousand votes have been recorded in favor of it. The right of voting was limited, by Gov. Robinson's proclamation, to squatters of a six months' residence. If all the free state men who favor the constitution, had been qualified to vote on it, there is every reason to believe that twenty-five thousand men would have ratified it at the polls.

It is time unquestionably the choice of the people of Kansas.

Over seventeen hundred persons—some of them non residents—recently elected a Constitutional Convention—a pro-slavery body. The delegates thus chosen meet in September. These men have the moral hardihood to claim that they truly represent the people of the territory! In this villainous pretense they are sustained by the Government. Douglas, and other leaders of the ebo-sihin democracy, (whose god is their nigger,) are preparing the way for the recognition and adoption of their Constitution.

This Constitution, if submitted to the people of the territory at a fair and free election, would be voted down by a'n overwhelming majority. The members know it; the nullifiers know it; the administration knows it. They are trying, there, to avert this inevitable result. Two plans have been proposed. The first is, to refuse to submit the Constitution to a popular vote. The nullifiers favor that scheme. The second is, to sustain the Constitution, apparently by the people, but in fact, by a fraudulent apportionment and fraudulent returns. The administration evidently favors this plan.

The necessary steps have been taken to make this scheme successful. Nineteen counties of Kansas, containing within a fraction of one half of the population, but with a baker's dozen of national democrats, or propagandists, have received only three representatives, while the other counties, fourteen in number, are kindly allowed thirty-six delegates and senators! The districts also are so divided as to render fraud easy of execution and difficult of detection. Not satisfied with these truly infamous arrangements, they have added still another precautionary plan. The returns are to be made to the county commissioners, who are the sole and final recorders! These men are bitter for a penitentiary, we are told, as a general rule, than a place on the bench. So much for the Constitutions.

Equally odious are the "laws of Kansas" to the vast majority of the people. Our readers are acquainted with the character of these enactments. They are a disgrace to the men who framed, the government which sustains, and the age which produced them.

Gov. Walker was selected by the government as the executor of its Kansas policy. He went there and spoke soft and soothing words. If promises had been performances, he would have deserved, ere this, the gratitude of the whole country; but as they are not, and as he is playing, and has been playing, a double game, he deserves the execrations of both sections of the Union, and is justly receiving his due.

He promised the people that all of them should have a vote, at a free and fair election, in October next, not under the territorial officials, whom the free state men repudiate, but by authority of the congress of the United States. He wishes them to vote under the "bogus statutes"—and they, as he knows, require the payment of a tax as a qualification for the right of suffrage. They disfranchise for all practical purposes one half of the people in the southern part of Kansas; they disfranchise the foreign element, which the Nebraska bill enfranchised, and which polls twelve hundred free state votes; and they provide, as we have shown, the most efficient methods for the perpetration of fraud.

The free state men cannot vote, therefore, without stultifying and disgracing themselves before the world.

What not this triumph enough?

It seems not. The old system, adopted by Shannon, of legal prosecution, is to be renewed. The leaders are to be imprisoned. Walker is bound to rule or ruin. We fear the result. We believe that the majority should and will rule in Kansas; but in obtaining their just authority the country may be involved in ruin.

Foreign Items.

FRANCE.—Eugene Sue, the novelist, died in Paris on the 3d.

Letters from France say that the silk harvest there is from one-third to one fourth under a fair ordinary crop.

The new wheat was proving of excellent quality and bulk, and realized one to two francs per hectolitre advance upon old.

A good early vintage is expected.

ITALY.—The Genoa Gazette contains a short abstract of Mazzini's article, the publication of which caused the seizure of the Italia del Popolo on the 29th of July. Mazzini denies that there was any intention of pillaging or blowing up public edifices, and says that at Genoa the movement was not directed against the Piedmontese Government, but that it was intended to turn the means of action which Genoa possesses to account and to draw Piedmont into a revolutionary war. Mazzini concludes by declaring that he will not cease until he has attained his object.

It is estimated that the Pope is determined to extend his journey to Tuscany, where, it is predicted, an unpleasant reception awaits him.

PORTUGAL.—Considerable sensation had been created by the discovery of extensive frauds in the wine trade. Government had seized a large quantity of mixture brought from England to Oporto, and intended to be taken back as veritable port wine. About 3,000 pipes of these mixtures, which comprise bad alcohol, molasses, and the essence of tar, are said to be now in London.

A fire broke out at Tarifa on the 19th of July, and was still raging on the 20th, having spread over an immense district of agricultural country, consuming vast quantities of standing grain, country houses, barns, &c.

MORMONS.—We understand that there is a band of Mormons, numbering six or eight persons who have located themselves between this city and the Rapids, on the "old road," and who are without "visible means of support." Several of their neighbors have had articles stolen lately. They will bear watching.—Racine Journal.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

A Trip across Wisconsin and up the Mississippi—Chippewa Valley, &c.

EAU CLAIRE, EAU CLAIRE CO., Aug. 13th.

DEAR SENTINEL:—I wrote you some three months ago from Menn Kaunee, on Green Bay, since which time I have made a trip across our noble State, indeed well nigh around it, and have seen so much to interest and delight me, that I have felt like communicating that delight, so far as I am able, in this letter to your readers. I had previously passed, several times, last year over the route between Appleton, my own home, the loveliest spot in all the north, and your city, and on this occasion was highly gratified to note the signs, everywhere apparent, of substantial improvement and permanent growth in the various towns and cities along the route, Menasha, Neenah, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Horicon, &c., &c., each and all, are thriving finely and looking prosperous, notwithstanding the universal cry of "hard times."

I spent a few hours in Milwaukee looking about the city, and was both delighted and astonished at the wonderful progress which has been made by the commercial metropolis of our State in the short space of one year. The improvements being made in your city, are evidently no "mushroom" affairs, but are, on the contrary, such as are actually demanded by your vastly increased, and rapidly increasing trade, the result of the wisdom and foresight of the business men of Milwaukee, in inaugurating, and pushing with such untiring energy towards completion, the admirable system of Railroads that are now pouring into your lap the vast and increasing trade of the Northwest, which has heretofore been monopolized by your Illinois rival, Chicago.

I left Milwaukee for Prairie du Chien by the 11.40 A. M. train, prouder than ever before of my adopted State, and of her noble commercial Metropolis, and was swiftly whirled away towards the rushing flood of the great "father of waters." This portion of the west had never been visited by me before, and I must say that until now I have been comparatively unenlightened as to the beauty, fertility, and almost fabulous resources of Wisconsin. On either side of the Railroad as far as the eye could reach, as we were whirled along, fields of golden grain, ripe for the hand of the reaper, were to be seen, in many of which the Farmers were already busy gathering up the ripened sheaves. Every where along the route the crops looked magnificently, and every where the remark, "our crops are at least one quarter heavier than ever before" met our ear.

We had but a poor chance to note the appearance of the numerous cities and villages along the line of the Road, for the cars like "time and tide" do not wait long for any man to make a tour of observation, so I had to content myself as best I could with a gazing glance, as we were hurried along by the iron horse towards the setting sun. But Wisconsin towns have about them an appearance of thrift and enterprise that I have seen nowhere else. On, on we sped, and in the after part of the day dashed down the beautiful valley of the "Black Earth," one of the most picturesque and lovely in all the west. On either side of this quiet vale, at a distance of some two miles apart, rises a ridge of lofty bluffs—hills, they might almost be called—from whose glistening crowns the rays of the declining sun were glinted back as we swept out into the somewhat broader valley of the Wisconsin.

The soil of the Black Earth valley must be of exceeding fertility, and reposing, as it does, embosomed among the hills, the traveler is forcibly reminded of the lovely vales of Freedom loving Switzerland.

On, on, we hastened down the valley of the Wisconsin as the shades of evening began to gather about us, and, consequently, but little of the country could be seen. I judged from the glimpses obtained as we hurried on that the soil was lighter and less productive than that of the Black Earth. The same general characteristics of surface, however, presented themselves all the way down the valley.

We saw but little of Prairie du Chien, for it was evening when we were whirled into the old town, and the sunlight was just gilding the hill tops with its mellow rays in the morning, as we swept out up, on the bosom of the Mississippi, and our gallant Steamer (the Milwaukee) turned her prow northward, and we found ourselves standing, for the first time, upon the deck of a Mississippi Steamer and gazing for the first time upon the Father of Waters with emotions we cannot describe,—a river gliding, with its tributaries, an empire in extent nearly or quite as large as all Europe, whose sources are formed far away in the frozen north, which, passing through and washing the borders of prosperous and happy States, filled by the willing hands of freemen, disembogues its gathered waters, at last, in a land of chains—such thoughts as these occupied our mind as we stood upon the steamer's deck and gazed on upon the rushing flood, and when we roused ourself, and looked around, the ancient town and the white walls of old Fort Crawford were glittering far astern in the morning sunlight, and the frowning bluffs that overhang the Mississippi, seemed about to fall upon the decks of our noble steamer as she dashed the spray from her gallant prow, for we were coursing along close under the lower shore, and a bustling crag seemed suspended directly over our heads. On either shore of the river the same characteristics present themselves—high, bold, bluffs coming down close to the water's edge—with here and there as we passed along, a busy town peering out upon us from amid the bluffs or nestling in some quiet ravine that leads out to the open prairie country back from the river.

The scenery along the Mississippi is the most romantic I have ever seen. We were ever winding amid the islands, green with summer verdure, and hills clothed in their very cresis with the bright robes of summer.

Of the the towns we saw along the Mississippi, Prairie du Chien, McGregor, La Crosse and Wenona, seemed to us the most important. Eventually, we think La Crescent and Reed's Landing must be also important points—the former at the mouth of Chippewa river. We left the Mississippi at the latter place, and came up the Chippewa to this place, which is the principal town in the valley, and although less than two years old contains not far from one thousand inhabitants, and must, from its location at the confluence of the Chippewa and Eau Claire rivers, be the largest town in this valley. It is, moreover, surrounded by a beautiful and exceedingly fertile region of country, being principally rolling prairie and fine openings, extending back on either hand from the river. Eau Claire is already a place of much importance for the manufacture of lumber, as they have a fine water power on the Eau Claire, and several steam mills in full blast. The town i growing more rapidly than any other I have seen in the State. It already has something like a dozen stores (on both sides of the river) and as many more in progress of erection. Two banks, two hotels, two newspapers, the usual number of lawyers, doctors &c., a church (presbyterian) in course of erection; one flouring mill(the only one in the place,) the usual mechanic shops, in short almost all the appliances of an old town. The United States land office for the Chippewa district is located here, and I am told that excellent farming lands are to be had within a very short distance of the village at government price.

But I find this letter getting much longer than I intended. If you cannot find space for it in your columns, you may in your stove. In closing let me say to your readers, that if any of them should visit this remote portion of the State, they will find at the "Eau Claire House," kept by my friend BOSWORTH, all the genuine comforts of a home.

Complaint of an Ex-Dead-head.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser furnishes the following capital letter, purporting to come from a correspondent who has had his former privileges cut off by the new policy of the N. Y. Central R. R.:

BUFFALO, July 22d, 1857.

Editor Commercial Advertiser:

DEAR SIR:—I am sure that your professional esprit de corps, if not your personal sympathy in my wrongs, will lead you to give place in your valuable paper to the subjoined communication.

The facts which I wish to place before your readers are these. Some few days since, I was under the necessity of applying at the Superintendent's office of the N. Y. Central Railroad, for a pass to the "Forks," whither with my family, I wished to go blackberrying. I was informed that I could not have it: an agreement having been entered into between the two principal railroads of this State to dead-head nobody but members of the legislature and common councilmen. I could appreciate this exception. Only these two classes of men have, more than the press, compromised their consciences in aid of the railroad interests. They have violated their constitutional oaths and prostituted their votes in aid of railroad projects, and so much, and so essential have been their services, that it is hardly an exaggeration to say that they have earned a perpetual pass to a place much hotter, though perhaps not farther off than Albany or New York. It would have been the height of ingratitude to have withheld from them the right so dearly earned of travelling gratuitously.

Next to them, sir, should come my claim.—For years I have written articles persuading Ia-mess to give up the right of way through their farms; inveighing widows to invest their money in railroad stocks; advocating the removal of tolls from railroad freight; the exemption of railroads from taxation; the allowing them to assess themselves just what they please; and all the other thousand devices which they have contrived for enriching the direction at the expense of the people and the stockholders. I have cackled over every newly appointed Superintendent as the concentration of all human virtue; eulogized the conductors as patterns of honesty and courtesy; puffed the cars, the engines, the baggage-master, brakemen, and water-boys; and at every accident, when hundred people had met their doom, I have stoutly asserted that no blame could be attached to the engineer. I have published long winded articles from directors, which had to be re-spelt, re written, and re-fashioned in every way.

Ah, sir!
"Had I but served my God with half the zeal
I served the railroads, he would not in mine age
Have left me naked to mine enemies!"

In the decline of my days, when time has silvered my temples, and age renders the courtesies of life particularly agreeable, the heartless, soulless corporation refuses myself, the wife of my bosom, and the children of our love, a ride to the "Forks" to go blackberrying! I trust, sir, that you will use your vigorous pen on this occasion; and hurl down indignant censure on men so forgetful of benefits received. Ingratitude is one of the meanest of crimes. What says the poet?

"How sharper than a serpent's tusks it is To have a toothless child!"
Yours in affliction, C. M.

Correspondence of the London Times.

Experiments with the Ocean Cable.

QUEENSTOWN, July 30, 1857.

The entire squadron, consisting of five magnificent ships of war, now about to proceed to the consummation of this great enterprise, are at this time anchored in the harbor of Queenstown. They consist of the Niagara, Capt. Hudson; the Susquehanna, Capt. Joshua Sands; the Agamemnon, master-Commander Noddall; the Cyclops, Capt. Dayman; and the Leopard, Capt. Wainwright.

The Agamemnon arrived this morning only, having been engaged the trip from Greenwich in the very valuable service of testing practically the form and suitability of the machinery to be used for paying out the cable.

Mr. Charles Tilston Bright, the engineer in chief of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, having joined her at that place, she bore away for the Irish coast at 2½ o'clock on Monday morning last.

To Mr. C. T. Bright is committed the entire control and responsibility of depositing safely in its ocean bed this wondrous example of the united power of science and industry.

During the progress of the Agamemnon to the Downs, the mechanical appliances for regulating the delivery of the cable into the sea were kept continually in motion by the small engine on board, which is connected with them; the sheaves and gearing worked with great facility and precision, and so quietly that at a short distance from them their motion could scarcely be heard.

The strength of the girders which carry the bearing of the entire apparatus, and which to the eye of a person unskilled in the practical working of this description of machinery may seem at first to be unduly ponderous, was found to contribute greatly to the easy motion and satisfactory steadiness of this most important agent in the success of the undertaking.

So soon as the Agamemnon had passed the track of the Submarine Company's cable between Dover and Calais, in order to avoid the possibility of its being injured by the laying or hauling up of another line at right angles to it, the experiments commenced. A 13 inch shell was attached to the end of a spare coil of the Atlantic cable, for the purpose of sinking it rapidly with a strain upon it to the bottom, and was then cast into the sea, drawing after it a sufficient quantity of slack to enable it to take hold of the ground and so set the machinery in motion.

The paying out then commenced at the rate of two, three and four knots an hour respectively. The ship was then stopped, and the cable was hauled up from the bottom of the sea with great facility, by connecting the small engine to the driving pinion geared to the sheaves.

When the end was brought up to the surface it was found that the shell had broken away from the loop, by which it had been fastened for the purpose of lowering it.

The cable, when recovered, was found to have been cleaned as bright as the specimens which have so freely distributed among the friends of the enterprise, and which are so generally known.

The exterior coating of tar had been completely rubbed off by being drawn through the sandy bottom of the sea, and attached to the iron coating of the cable were some weeds and several small crabs which came up with it to the surface.

On the following day a length of cable was run out and hauled in with perfect success opposite the Isle of Wight, attached to an anchor.

The speed was increased in this case to five knots.

During the afternoon of the same day a length was run out, having listened to the end of it a log of timber, and after having been towed with a mile and a-half of cable, was coiled in again with success.

On Wednesday, about half way between Land's End and the coast of Ireland, another length was run out at the rate of six and a half knots per hour and subsequently hauled in. The Agamemnon then steered for Cork, and reached Queenstown Harbour at 4 o'clock on Thursday morning, all on board being more than ever satisfied of the success of the enterprise.

IMPORTANT GRAIN DECISION.—Judge Drummond, of the U. S. District Court now in session in this city, has given a decision that is of considerable interest to grain dealers. The case was that of Charles F. Waller, sol., vs. William A. Viets. It is an action on a written contract made in April last, whereby defendant agreed to deliver to plaintiff 15,000 bushels of corn during the last half of June, at a stipulated price to be paid on delivery, which defendant failed to perform, and plaintiff claimed damages for the failure, corn having advanced largely in prices in the meantime. Defendant filed several pleas, setting forth that, at the time of making the contract, he had not the corn, which fact was known to the plaintiff—that therefore it was a wager contract and void in law. To these pleas the plaintiff demurred, and the demurrer was argued by Messrs. Stuart and Asay for the defendant, who contended that the fact of selling, deliverable at a future day, when the seller had not the article on hand, was sufficient cause to overrule the demurrer and permit the case to go to the jury, where he could show the facts, that at the time of the making of the contract, no delivery was contemplated by the parties, but only the payment of the difference between the contract and market prices for money from one party to the other at the time specified for delivery. Mr. Fuller, for plaintiff, contended that the pleas disclosed no such state of facts, as, if all proved, would warrant a jury in finding it a gambling contract. Yesterday morning the court gave judgement for plaintiff on the demurrer.—Chicago Journal.

☞ By reference to our new advertisements it will be seen our old friends Messrs. Griswold & Burnham have just received one thousand buffalo robes, being the largest shipment ever received in this city. What in the world do they do with so many, inquires some? We reply—a few will doubtless sold as robes, but the principal part of them will be converted into the "Wisconsin Premium Oversboe," of which these gentlemen are the manufacturers. They will make 20,000 pair this year, the whole of which one wholesale house in Chicago wanted, but of course could not have.—Racine Journal.

☞ Two more new warehouses will soon be put up at the depot, and be in readiness by the time business fairly commences. Messrs. Farnham & Allen, we learn, will soon have an addition to their already extensive warehouse.—Columbus Rep.

☞ Great men, says Lander, lose somewhat of their greatness by being near us: ordinary men gain much.

☞ Regard the interests of others as well as your own.

Fort Snelling Speculations.

The Fort Snelling Reservation in Minnesota has long been regarded by the Government officials as a fat public goose worth being in at the plucking. They have been in, and deeply, too, beyond doubt. The sale was quietly managed at Washington, no competition permitted, and a number of the leading members of the party in Minnesota and elsewhere were allowed to "feather their nests" to the tune of hundreds of thousands. A Mr. Franklin Steele, whose residence is on the Reservation, is the nominal purchaser, and an order has been issued to put Mr. S. into full possession of the property. The price paid for the immense property at private sale was $80,000, only one third down. Its real value is estimated between two and three millions!

The Fort snelling Reservation is situated at the junction of the Minnesota and Mississippi Rivers, nearly midway between St. Paul and the Falls of St. Anthony, and embraces an entire township, or 23,040 acres. The land is high, rolling, and fertile. The junction of the two rivers makes it the natural site for a great city. The point possesses unusual advantages, which would have been seized upon by enterprising men years ago had not the Government held the site for military purposes. The fort, barracks, &c., cost the Government some $40,000 to $50,000. Last spring, speculators in Western real estate estimated Fort Snelling lands at from $100 to $150 per acre. In lots, at public sale, the Reservation would have brought large prices; but the people of the United States, who were the real owners of this soil, were outrageously swindled by Democratic members of Congress and Territorial U. S. officials, through a private sale at their own price. So patent and so outrageous is the fraud, that even the Cincinnati Enquirer, the leading organ of the Administration in this State, calls for action. It says:

We trust that the honest and firm Secretary of the Interior will satisfy the people that the Government has not been swindled in the recent sale of the Fort Snelling Reservation. The affair requires explanation. The Administration cannot be too prudent and vigilant in watching the maneuvers of certain speculators, who, in the mask of Democracy, are, in fact, "ravening" depredators and speculators. There are men who stand high at Washington who entertain grandly, and succeed in deluding some of our high functionaries, and yet, who, in fact, are only employing political position and place to enrich themselves at the expense of the people by various devices of peculation and swindling. Minnesota has been a favorite arena for these speculators. To the schemes of one or two of such depredators the Democratic party owes its defeat in that State. Like all righteous causes, the name of our party will sometimes be borrowed and assumed by scoundrels to cover up their rascally designs. Our duty is to be vigilant and watchful, to detect and fearlessly expose such peculations.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

THE BOGUS CUNNINGHAM BABY.—The bogus, or borrowed (Cunningham) Baby is still at the Museum, and attracts much curiosity. The mother is a thin, plain, pale woman—forty or upwards to all appearance—and seems perfectly at her ease in her novel position, conversing freely with all who question her, and administering with all who question her, and administering nourishment without ceremony to the little one, while it seems unconscious of any lack save that it lives to eat. It is dressed in a fine embroidered gown, the gift of a lady; and the night clothes in which it was attired at 81 Bond street are displayed in a glass case hard by. The child's rare were sore after the marking—there was no need, if it had been properly done—but the scar has disappeared. Mrs. Anderson says she would not have lent the baby, had she known what was to be done with it. She was told it would be returned in two hours, and the nurse said afterwards something about a law suit depending on its production. When the two hours had passed without its return, the other woman suggested that it had been carried off, and the mother would never see it again. She was, in fact, kept in suspense as to its fate five hours or more.—N. Y. Express 15th.

DEATH OF A BONAPARTE.—Among the deaths mentioned in the latest London papers is that of Charles Bonaparte, Prince of Canino, the eldest son of Lucien Bonaparte, brother of the first Emperor, and well known by this work on the Birds of America, and by other contributions to natural science. He was born in Paris in 1803, and died there July 29, at the residence in the Rue de Sevre, at the age of 54. He had married Zenaide, the only daughter of Joseph Bonaparte, with whom he received a very large dowry. She died in 1854. Eight children were the issue of this marriage, of whom the oldest, Joseph Lucien Charles Bonaparte, serves in the army. The second, Lucien Louis Joseph, has taken orders in the Catholic Church. He is one of the Pope's chamberlains, and, it is expected will soon be made a Cardinal. The deceased Prince of Canino was a member of most of the learned academies of Europe and America, and possessed, along with some of the genius of his father, applied, however, in a different direction, a good many of his amiable qualities
